

Open Banking

Access your members' financial history with one click.

Open Banking enables your members to safely and securely connect their bank account to your Credit Union rather than having to upload a bank statement.

We have worked with our partner TrueLayer and integrated Open Banking into our secure lending process, making the overall process much quicker and easier for your members!

Consider the time it currently takes and all the back and forth with members to collate all the necessary financial data required as part of a loan application. Open Banking means your members can link their other bank accounts with one click and makes for a much smoother, hassle-free member experience. It also vastly improves the time and effort required of your loans team to assess a loan application.

How does it work?

Open Banking allows Credit Union members to apply for loans quickly and easily using their CU Mobile banking app. Instead of the member having to find and upload their bank statements online, they can safely and securely grant their credit union access to their bank account with one click.

Streamlining the loan approval process by reducing the time it takes to process a loan. Resulting in faster loan turnaround times and improved overall efficiency.

What's more you can link open banking with our already established Decision as a Service product presenting an opportunity to enhance decision-making processes by leveraging real-time financial data.
